Management Report of Fund Performance

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

(This performance commentary is based on Class O units of the Fund. Returns for other classes of units may vary, largely due to differences in fees and expenses. Please refer to the Past Performance section for class level performance details.)

The first half of 2011 saw commodity markets move higher. The broad based Reuters Jefferies Index gained 1.6% while the energy weighted SPGSCI Index increased by 5.9%. A strong first quarter was characterized by commodity bullishness on the back of an improving economic picture in the United States as well as strong growth in China and other emerging market economies. Risk appetite in the second quarter diminished, which gave way to a mild commodity slide. Growth expectations were impaired by further Euro zone concerns around Greece and potential sovereign debt contagion to other member countries. Moreover, the People's Bank of China moved to control Chinese inflation, while ongoing concerns around the U.S. debt ceiling lead to a decline in the U.S. dollar.

Through the first half, the Futures Index Fund (the "Fund") gradually increased its allocation to short positions as commodity markets showed signs of slowing. The largest driver of returns was the Fund's Currency and Commodity futures holdings which contributed 2.0% and 0.1% respectively. Fixed Income futures detracted -1.2%. In aggregate, the Fund provided a solid return of 1.20% which put it 0.10% ahead of its benchmark for the first half of 2011.

The energy complex was the decided winner for the first half of 2011. Unrest in the Middle East created supply concerns around Crude Oil which pushed prices to a recent high of US$114.83/barrel. However, the second quarter saw supply concerns ease, as did economic growth expectations. Crude finished the half up 4.4% however Gasoline and Heating Oil were the real stars gaining 23.6% and 15.3% respectively. Natural Gas finished slightly negative at -0.7%. The Futures Index Fund was well positioned this period as it capitalized on the strength of gasoline and heating oil by holding long positions, whilst short natural gas.

Fixed Income assets saw mixed returns for the quarter effectively finishing close to flat. The U.S. Ten Year note returned 1.6%, while the UK Gilt gained 0.6% and the Japanese Government 10 Year contract and German Bund both rose 0.5%. The Futures Index Fund held long and short positions in these assets through the period.

In the metals space, a weak U.S. dollar and concerns in the Euro zone lead to a bid for Gold as a store of value. The precious metal touched an all time high of US$1577.40/oz in the second quarter and finished up 5.7% for the first half. Conversely, copper did not fare well as concerns around future growth reduced demand for the industrial metal, which fell 3.8% for the period. While the Fund was long both metals, the upward move in gold outweighed the drawdown in copper prices.

The agricultural sector was decidedly the weakest through the first half of 2011. Wheat showed a major decline of 26.4% as larger than expected crop yields and planted acreages were reported. In May, the decline in Sugar was as much as 36.5%, however a rally into the end of June saw the commodity finish down only 11.7%. Soybeans fell 6.2%, Corn was flat on the period and Cattle gained 4.5%. On a net basis this sector moved modestly against the Fund's positions.

Moving to the currency universe, the U.S. dollar experienced broad based weakness against most currencies through the first half of 2011. While the Euro had an excellent first quarter against the U.S. dollar, it gave back some returns due to sovereign debt concerns thereby finishing the first half up 8.4%. The Swiss Franc had emerged as an alternate safe haven currency and finished ahead 11.1%. Aussie and Sterling both gained against the USD, 4.8% and 3.0% respectively, while the Japanese Yen posted a modest 0.9% gain. The Fund was well positioned to capitalize on these price moves which contributed to the largest gains in the Fund's overall performance.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS ("IFRS")
The Canadian Accounting Standards Board ("CASB") previously confirmed January 1, 2011 as the date IFRS would replace Canadian Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) for publicly accountable enterprises, which include investment funds and other reporting issuers.

Futures Index Fund

Management Report of Fund Performance

On January 12, 2011, the CASB amended the requirement to prepare financial statements in accordance with IFRS as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board, permitting investment companies, which include investment funds, to defer adoption of IFRS to fiscal years beginning on or after January 1, 2013. The Fund has elected to defer adoption of IFRS to January 1, 2013.

In preparing to meet the requirements, the Manager has taken the following steps in managing the transition to IFRS:

- Established a working group to identify key differences between Canadian GAAP and IFRS and to coordinate the implementation of the transition plan,
- Identified areas where changes in disclosure will be required under IFRS standards,
- Evaluated current information technology & reporting systems for readiness in IFRS implementation,
- Assessed the likely impacts on business activity and operational areas such as internal controls, staffing and training requirements.

The major changes identified for IFRS financial statements include the addition of a statement of cash flows and the classification of unitholders' equity (puttable instruments) as a liability within the statement of net assets, unless certain conditions are met.

Based on the current evaluation of the differences between Canadian GAAP and IFRS, the adoption of IFRS is expected to have no impact on the calculation of net assets or net asset value. IFRS is expected to affect the overall presentation of financial statements and result in additional disclosure in the accompanying notes. However, the Manager's assessment may change if new standards are issued or if the interpretations of current standards are revised.
